Executive Summary

MindBridge is a B2B SaaS platform that enables HR departments to proactively monitor workforce mental wellness, connect employees to licensed therapists, and track wellbeing trends across teams. Founded in 2023 by Dr. Maya Chen, a clinical psychologist with 15 years of practice, MindBridge has two Fortune 500 subsidiaries running 90-day enterprise pilots. The platform creates measurable social impact by making mental health support accessible to working professionals.

Problem

Mental health conditions cost US employers USD 225 billion annually in lost productivity, absenteeism, and turnover (American Institute of Stress, 2023). 74% of employees report that their company's EAP (Employee Assistance Programme) is difficult to navigate and underused. Current solutions (Modern Health, Lyra Health) price out mid-size employers at USD 300–500 per employee per year. The US corporate wellness market is valued at USD 53 billion and growing at 8% annually.

Solution

MindBridge integrates directly with Workday and SAP HR systems. An anonymised team wellness dashboard surfaces burnout risk scores at the team level without exposing individual data. Employees access on-demand licensed therapist sessions via in-app video. Pricing: USD 12 per employee per month (billed annually to HR departments).

Social Commitments

MindBridge is committed to creating social impact by making mental health support more accessible to working professionals who would otherwise face long waitlists or unaffordable out-of-pocket costs. All therapists on the platform are licensed, insured, and receive above-market session rates.
